1.0 ABOUT ANTIGUA AND BARBUDA

Photograph 1: Overview of St. John's

Geography

The twin island nation of Antigua and Barbuda is located in the Eastern Caribbean, about 1,200 miles southeast of Miami, Florida, USA, and forms part of the group of islands called the Leeward Islands. Antigua, the mainland, is located at 17°N and 61°W. St. John's, the capital of Antigua and the main center of Government, is located on the northwestern side of the island. It is home to the island's main seaport and airport. Barbuda, the sister isle, is located 25 miles to the north of Antigua. The capital of Barbuda is Codrington. The uninhabited island of Redonda is located west of the mainland. Antigua is approximately 108 sq. miles (280 sq. km) while Barbuda is about 62 sq. miles (160 sq. km). The islet of Redonda is 0.6 sq. miles (1.6 sq. km).

Climate

The climate is tropical and mild. Temperatures range from 24°C (76°F) to 30°C (86°F). August and September are usually the hottest months while January and February are the coolest months. The average rainfall is approximately 42 inches per year. Rainfall is heaviest during the summer. The cool trade winds and low humidity aid the overall pleasant year-round climate.

History and Culture

Christopher Columbus was the first European to discover Antigua in 1493, and named the island Antigua, after the Santa Maria La Antigua church in Seville, Spain. The British were the first Europeans to establish a settlement in 1632 and, except for a brief period when the French occupied the settlement, Antigua remained a British colony until 1967. The economy, like other Caribbean islands, was until recently, devoted to sugar production. Slave labour was imported from Africa until 1838, when slavery was abolished. Antigua and Barbuda gained independence on November 1, 1981.

Ethnic Diversity

The population is mostly of African descent. However, there are many persons of British, Portuguese, American, Chinese, Spanish, Lebanese, Syrian, German and Italian origin. A number of retired North Americans and Europeans permanently reside on the island.

Language

English is the official language used in Antigua and Barbuda. French and Spanish are taught in most high schools.

Living Standard

Literacy in Antigua and Barbuda (90%) is one of the highest in the Eastern Caribbean and so is the standard of living. Even with the existence of a national minimum wage, most employers pay higher wages. As a result, there is a high rate of car and house ownership. Unemployment is very low. There is also a large percentage of skilled immigrant workers from Dominica, Dominican Republic, Guyana, Jamaica and other Caribbean islands. This pool of skilled workers will be enhanced with the advent of the Caribbean Single Market Economy (CSME).

Government

Antigua and Barbuda is an independent Nation that has preserved the British tradition of parliamentary democracy upon which the constitution is based. Following the Westminster Model, Antigua is governed by a Parliament consisting of two houses, the House of Representatives and the Senate.

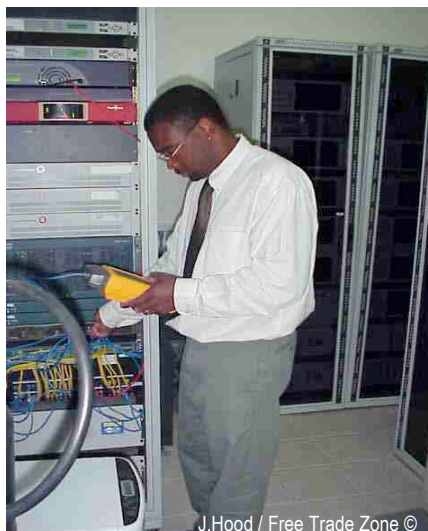

The Lower House or House of Representatives is made up of 19 members – 17 members elected for a five year term in single seat constituencies, 1 Attorney General and 1 Speaker of the House. General Elections are held once every five years. The Upper House or Senate is made up of 17 members appointed by the Governor General (mainly on the advice of the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition).

Role of the Governor General and Prime Minister

Queen Elizabeth, as Head of the British Commonwealth, is represented in Antigua and Barbuda by the Governor General who acts on the advice of the Prime Minister and the Cabinet. The Governor General is Sir James B. Carlisle (since 1993).

The Prime Minister has traditionally been the leader of the ruling party, elected by party members. The Prime Minister of the country is the Honourable Baldwin Spencer, leader of the UPP ruling party.

3.0 TELECOMMUNICATIONS

Photograph 3: Overview of Cable & Wireless

3.0.1 BACKGROUND

The nationally owned telecommunications company of Antigua and Barbuda is the Antigua Public Utilities Authority (APUA) Telephones. This company is owned and controlled by the Government of Antigua and Barbuda and provides both residential and commercial businesses with telecommunication services. The international telecommunications service provider is Cable & Wireless (West Indies) Ltd. (C&W), a branch of the British owned, major global telecommunications company, Cable & Wireless PLC. Cable & Wireless PLC has several branches throughout the Caribbean. The hub for the region however is based in Antigua. Cable & Wireless services approximately 14 million to 20 million calls per year and they estimate that traffic to be 25% of their capability. Both entities work closely together in order to ensure first-class service to the country.

Economic development of a country is directly related to its telecommunications infrastructure. The tele-density of Antigua and Barbuda is compatibly with that of many developing countries. It is estimated in 2004 that there are approximately 50 telephone lines per one hundred persons. With a population of approximately 70,737 (2001) there was an increase in telephone lines issued from 16,000 in 1991 to 38,000 in 2004.

7.0 TRADE AGREEMENTS

Photograph 6: Overview of Heritage Quay

Antigua and Barbuda is a signatory to the following trade agreements. As part of the Free Trade and Processing Zone, investors may access regional and international markets through the following trade agreements:

7.1 Association of Caribbean States (ACS)

Antigua and Barbuda is a member of the Association of Caribbean States (ACS) which was established on August 18th 1995. With a membership of 38 countries from the Caribbean, South and Central America, the population of the ACS countries amounts to approximately 200 million. Members include the CARICOM countries, Venezuela, Mexico, the Dominican Republic, Cuba, and a number of Central American countries. The eligible associate members include Aruba, the Kingdom of the Netherland Antilles, Puerto Rico, the French islands, and the British and US Virgin Islands. This grouping provides opportunities in trade, investment, tourism, transportation and economic development.

7.2 CARICOM

Antigua and Barbuda is a member of the Caribbean Community. Included in the membership of CARICOM are Antigua and Barbuda, Barbados, Belize, Dominica, the Dominican Republic, Grenada, Guyana, Jamaica, Montserrat, St. Kitts / Nevis, St. Lucia, St. Vincent and the Grenadines, Suriname, and Trinidad and Tobago.

One of the main objectives of CARICOM is to maximise intra-Caribbean trade by eliminating tariffs and restrictions on intra-CARICOM trade.

7.3 CARICOM Republic of Venezuela Agreement

The fundamental objective of this agreement is to strengthen the economic and trade relations between CARICOM and Venezuela (hereafter referred to as “the Parties”) through:

- The promotion and expansion of the sale of goods originating in CARICOM through, inter alia, one-way duty-free access to the Venezuelan market;
- The stimulation of investments aimed at taking advantage of the markets of the Parties and strengthening their competitiveness in world trade;
- The facilitation of the creation and operation of regional joint ventures; and
- The encouragement of mechanisms for the promotion and protection of investments by nationals of the Parties.

As such, Venezuela has agreed to grant products originating in Member States of the CARICOM, free access to its markets by means of the implementation of programmes of tariff reduction and the elimination of non-tariff barriers according to detailed schedules laid out in the agreement. This is however, with the exception of certain items, including but not limited to, beef, certain milk products, coffee & cocoa beans, vegetable oils & fats, orange juices, oxygen, carbon dioxide, nitrous oxides, anhydrous ammonia, aluminum sulphate, other carboxylic acids, medicaments constituted by a mixture of products prepared for therapeutic or prophylactic use, urea, paints and varnishes based on modified synthetic or natural polymers, dissolved in an aqueous or non-aqueous medium, insecticides, disinfectants and a variety of iron & steel products.

7.4 CARICOM Republic of Colombia Agreement

The fundamental objective of this agreement is to strengthen the economic and trade relations and technical cooperation between CARICOM and Colombia (hereafter referred to as “the Parties”) through:

- The promotion and expansion of the sale of goods originating in CARICOM and Colombia with particular emphasis on exports from CARICOM states in the early stages of the implementation of this Agreement;
- The promotion and protection of investments aimed at taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the markets of “the Parties” and strengthening their competitiveness in the international market;

- The facilitation of the creation and operation of regional joint ventures;
- The development of technical and scientific cooperation activities which may be agreed upon between “the Parties”;
- The promotion of private sector activities, including business exchanges between “the Parties”.

“The Parties” have agreed to promote a programme of trade liberalization taking into account the difference in the levels of development between Colombia and CARICOM generally, and, in particular, these countries designated the Less Developed Countries (LDCs) of CARICOM.

As such, Colombia has agreed to grant products originating in Member States of the CARICOM, free access to its markets by means of the implementation of programmes for the elimination of tariff and non-tariff barriers according to detailed schedules laid out in the agreement.

7.5 CARICOM Dominican Republic Agreement

The fundamental objective of this agreement is to strengthen the economic and trade relations between CARICOM and the Dominican Republic. With the inclusion of the Dominican Republic into the CARICOM market, a range of new opportunities are now open to both the Dominican Republic and Caricom countries.

7.6 Caribbean Basin Initiative

Antigua and Barbuda is a Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI) beneficiary country. The CBI is a broad programme aimed at promoting economic development through private sector initiative in the Central American and Caribbean Countries. Its major goal is to expand foreign and domestic investment in non-traditional sectors, and to diversify the economy and expand the exports of CBI countries.

The major elements of the CBI programme available to all CBI beneficiary countries are:

- Duty-free entry to the United States for a wide range of products grown and manufactured in CBI countries in order to stimulate investment and expanded export production.
- Eligible products include electronic and electro-mechanical assembly, handicraft, giftware and decorative accessories, wood products, including furniture and building materials, recreational items, such as sporting goods and toys, fresh and frozen seafood, tropical fruit products and winter vegetables, ethnic and speciality foods, such as sauces, spices, liqueurs, jams, etc., ornamental horticulture, medical and surgical supplies

- The CBI law excludes the following articles from duty-free entry status: most textiles and apparel, canned tuna, petroleum and petroleum products, footwear, except disposable items and footwear parts such as uppers, certain leather, rubber and plastic gloves, luggage, handbags, and flat goods, certain leather apparel, watches and watch parts, except if any component originated in a communist country.
- CBI Textile Programme: A special access programme (Guaranteed Access Levels) for textiles and apparel that guarantees markets for apparel assembled from U.S. -formed and -cut material.
- CBI Government Procurement: National treatment for producers in CBI countries in bidding for certain types of U.S. Government procurement opportunities.
- Exemption for CBI exports to the US from US Import Merchandise Processing Fees.
- A wide range of US government, state government, and private sector business development programmes, including trade and investment financing, business missions, and technical assistance programmes, partially supported through US foreign economic assistance.

7.7 CARIBCAN

The Canadian Government provides duty free access to the Canadian market for most Commonwealth Caribbean exports except on textiles, apparel, footwear, luggage, handbags, leather garments, methanol, lubricating oil.

A product under this scheme is classified as being grown or manufactured in the Country if a minimum of 60 percent of the ex-factory price of the goods originates in any of the Commonwealth Caribbean. The 60 percent includes overhead and a reasonable profit margin allowance.

7.8 COTONOU / LOME AGREEMENT

The new ACP EU Partnership Agreement, - which, after the Lome Conventions, is to cover the next 20 years of the relationship between the European Union and the ACP countries, was signed in Cotonou on 23 June 2000. The Lome Convention extends preferential treatment to many products from The African Caribbean and Pacific (ACP) nations, allowing items to enter the European Community free of duty without quota restrictions. Only products originating in the ACP nations qualify for this preferential status.

7.9 FTAA

Scheduled for adoption in 2005, the FTAA is intended to unite the economies of the Americas by eliminating barriers to foreign trade and investment. The market will stretch from Northern Canada to Southern Chile.

9.0 EDUCATION

Photograph 8: St. Nicholas Primary School

There are a number of public and private educational institutions in Antigua. In total, there are sixty-five primary schools and eleven secondary schools. Post secondary education is available at the Antigua State College, University of the West Indies Extra Mural Center and the Antigua & Barbuda International Institute of Technology.

The Government heavily subsidizes education in Antigua & Barbuda. All matters related to education on the island are handled by the Ministry of Education, Culture and Technology. This office is an invaluable resource in the search and selection of a school that will meet the developmental and educational needs of your child.

The system of education in Antigua & Barbuda is based on the British educational system. The school year begins in September and ends in June of the following year.

9.1 PRE-SCHOOLS

Pre-school children receive care and early childhood education at a number of kindergarten facilities on the island.

9.2 PRIMARY SCHOOLS

On average toddlers are accepted into grade one of primary school during their fifth year and remain there until the sixth grade. A student's progress from primary school to secondary school is based upon their performance in the common entrance examinations. This exam is usually written in the sixth grade.

9.3 SECONDARY SCHOOLS

In our school system, the upper grades are referred to as forms. Students enter form one after grade six and remain there until form five. At the end of the fifth year, students sit the Caribbean Examinations Council exam or (CXC). These examinations are similar to the British Ordinary Level or O'Level examinations. Success in these examinations is critical to a student's ability to progress to higher levels of education and in many instances to become successfully employed. Therefore, significant emphasis is placed upon preparation for these exams during forms four and five of secondary school.

9.4 POST SECONDARY EDUCATION

9.41 Antigua State College

Post secondary education is available through the Antigua State College. The various departments offer university preparation courses, vocational training in electronics, refrigeration and mechanics, teacher training, pharmacy, office procedures and secretarial training.

9.42 University Education

The Antigua State College is affiliated with the University of the West Indies which has campuses in the islands of Jamaica, Barbados and Trinidad. Students in Antigua can begin their first and second year degree programs here on a full time basis.

For those students wishing to pursue their degree on a part time basis through distance education. There is an extra mural campus of the University of the West Indies here on the island, which provides classes in many of the subject areas offered at the university.

9.43 Vocational Training

There are several privately and Government owned institutions which offer vocational training to persons who are interested. Subjects range from computer studies to dressmaking. There is also the Hotel Training School which caters to the needs of those who wish to enter the hospitality industry.

9.5 INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY TRAINING

Photograph 9: Antigua & Barbuda International Institute of Technology

9.51 Antigua and Barbuda International Institute of Technology

There are several private and corporate schools offering training in computer skills and information technology. However, specialized training in Information Technology is available through the Antigua & Barbuda International Institute of Technology, a subsidiary of the Free Trade and Processing Zone.

The Antigua and Barbuda International Institute of Technology (ABIIT) and the Internet Gaming Industry are creating an IT culture on the island. ABIIT which is a modern state-of-the-art IT college, was recently declared a Centre for Excellence in Information Technology in the Caribbean, has trained many persons who will be eventually employed in the Internet Gaming Industry and other IT intensive industries.

9.52 ABIIT Course Offerings:

11.0 PERMANENT RESIDENCE SCHEME

Photograph 11: Jolly Harbour Villas

<sup>2</sup>In June 1995, the government introduced a permanent residence scheme to encourage a limited number of high net worth individuals to establish tax residency in Antigua and Barbuda. As residents all their income would be free of local tax.

To obtain a permanent residence certificate an applicant must:

- maintain a permanent place of abode in Antigua and Barbuda
- obtain an alien landholding licence costing 5% of the property value
- pay a purchaser's stamp duty of 2.50%
- pay an annual levy of US$20,000/annum
- reside in Antigua and Barbuda for not less than 30 days a year

12.0 TRANSPORTATION

Photograph 12: West Bus Station Terminal

There are several ways of getting around Antigua – Taxis, Buses, Rental Cars, Scooters, Motorbikes or Bicycles.

The Antigua and Barbuda Transport Board is the official Government agency responsible for internal ground transportation. Both bus and taxi services are subject to the standard Government authorized rates.

As a result of its British heritage, Antiguan drive on the left side of the road.

12.1 TAXIS

Taxis are available 24 hours a day. Taxi stands are scattered throughout St. John's, V.C Bird International Airport, Shopping Malls, Ports and Hotels. Taxis may be hailed from the side of the road or contacted by you independently or through your hotel guest services. Taxis may be in the form of cars or minibuses.

12.2 BUSES

The two major bus terminals in St. John's are the East and West Bus Stations. The East Bus Station is located on Independence Avenue and services routes to the eastern and northern sides of the island. The West Bus Station is located on Market Street directly opposite the Public Market and services routes to the western and southern parts of the island. Many of these buses are privately owned 12 or 28 seaters. There are specially designated bus stops along the routes. The main shopping malls, Woods Center and Food City Supermarket, provide special bus services for shoppers via the bus terminals.

12.3 RENTAL VEHICLES

For those individuals who prefer to drive rental vehicles, there are over 15 car rental agencies in Antigua, which include many internationally known car rental companies. All of them offer a variety of vehicles to choose from – manual or automatic transmission, air conditioned or jeep type. Maps are also provided for customers so getting lost should be no problem. A local temporary driving licence for short stay is required by law. This can be obtained through the car rental agency for a fee of US$20.00 (EC$50.00) upon presentation of your own valid driver's licence from your country of origin. The approximate cost per day of a rental car is US$ 40.00 and minibus rental is US$80.00.

12.4 OTHER FORMS OF TRANSPORTATION

Temporary local driver's licences are also required to rent motorcycles or scooters. Bicycles are also available for rental.

The Free Trade and Processing Zone in Coolidge is approximately seven minutes drive from the airport. Parking space is readily available. The approximate taxi fare from the airport is US$4.00

13.0 EXPATRIATE LIVING, CULTURE AND TOURISM

Photograph 13: Villas at Jolly Harbour

Most of the amenities that expatriates are accustomed to are easily available in Antigua and Barbuda.

13.1 Housing

Antigua offers a variety of housing options for the expatriate ranging from single family homes to apartments and villas. There are several gated communities such as Jolly Harbour which offer a variety of villas of different styles and views. Housing can be found through any real estate agent here in Antigua.

13.2 Medical Facilities

Antigua and Barbuda has many well-qualified and trained general practitioners and specialists in obstetrics and gynecology, pediatrics, physiotherapy, psychiatry, cardiology, both in private practice, as well as attached to the two main health care facilities in the country.

Most common surgical procedures are performed in Antigua. 24-hour emergency services are available at the main Government hospital – Holberton. Facilities are also available at the privately owned, Adelin Clinic.

A modern state-of-the-art hospital is now near completion. The Mount St. John's Medical Centre, as it will be known, is estimated to cost thirty-one million United States Dollars.

13.3 Cost of Living

The inflation rate in Antigua and Barbuda is less than 1% and has remained under 3% for the past few years.

13.4 Tourism and Leisure

Antigua and Barbuda is a major Caribbean tourist destination, offering its guests excellent hotel accommodations and facilities and possessing an abundance of natural beauty.

For many years the Government of Antigua and Barbuda has been dedicated to actively promoting tourism. There are over 40 hotels of international standard and a large number of apartments and guest-houses.

The island is easily accessible by both air and sea with a busy international airport and two seaports served by international cruise lines.

13.5 Sporting Activities

Scuba diving, water-skiing, windsurfing, and sailboarding equipment can be hired from a number of watersports companies. Horseback riding is available. The island also boasts two first class golf courses. A glass-bottomed boat trip offers a relaxing view of the exotic marine life and coral reefs.

Antigua's Sailing Week is held in either April or May each year. This is a premier international Sailing event that attracts hundreds of vessels from around the globe. World Class Test Cricket is held every year at the recently renovated Antigua Recreation Grounds in the capital, St. John's.

13.6 Beaches

The terrain is mostly low-lying limestone and coral. This accounts for the island's white sandy beaches, surrounded by rich coral reefs and seagrass beds. Local legend has it that Antigua's indented coastline offers 365 beaches – one for each day of the year. Barbuda's pink sand beaches are among the longest and most beautiful anywhere in the world.

13.7 Attractions, Culture & Cultural Events

Antigua is rich in history and culture and there are a number of restored historical sites.

Nelson's Dockyard, situated at English Harbor, where Admiral Nelson was based during the 18th Century, is considered the island's most famous landmark. In addition, there is Shirley's Heights with its breathtaking view of the surroundings and neighbouring islands, restored Betty's Hope Estate (once the island's largest sugar plantation), the St. John's Cathedral Church, the Antigua and Barbuda Museum, and Fort James.

A summer cultural Festival – Carnival is held every year with a duration of approximately 11 days culminating in street jump-ups on the first Monday and Tuesday in August.

In addition to our natural attractions of beaches, landscapes and fascinating marine environment, Antigua and Barbuda offers world-class shopping, sports, dining, and entertainment.

14.0 COMMERCIAL PRACTICES, CULTURAL NORMS AND SAFETY TIPS

Photograph 14: St. John's Public Market

14.1 Business Hours

Government office hours: 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. from Mondays to Thursdays.
8:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. on Fridays.

Commercial business hours: 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. from Monday to Friday.
Shopping extends to Saturday.

Banking hours: 8:00am to 2:00pm Monday through Thursday.
8:00 am to 5pm Friday. Some banks open on Saturday.

14.2 Business Attire

Men and women doing business in Antigua and Barbuda should note that despite the warm climate and the fact that the country is part of the Caribbean, business attire here is conventional business wear. Additionally, business offices are generally air-conditioned.

Business attire for men: For office wear, long or short sleeved shirts worn with ties is the norm. Jackets are used on more formal occasions.

Business attire for women: Conventional business suits, or skirts and blouses, are the norm for office wear.

14.3 Attire Outside of business

Lightweight casual clothing. Beach attire is appropriate for the beach but not town, shops or restaurants. Some hotels and restaurants stipulate jacket and tie for men and dresses for women in the evening.

14.4 Tipping/Gratuities

Same as in the US; 10-15% depending on the service. Some restaurants & hotels will automatically add a 10% gratuity. If in doubt, just ask.

14.5 Electricity

Dual voltage 110 volts and 220 volts. Most hotels have both voltages available.

14.6 Time Zone

Eastern / Atlantic Standard Time or GMT – 4.

14.7 Currency/Money

Official currency is the Eastern Caribbean dollar (EC$) which is fixed to the US dollar at an exchange rate of US$1.00 = EC$2.70. US currency, travelers checks and major credit cards are accepted.

14.8 Personal Safety

Antigua & Barbuda are relatively crime free, but exercise normal precautions; i.e. don't leave valuables unattended in rental cars or on the beach.
